

It's Official Now!

Y-12's New Credit Union Building Dedicated Sunday

It's all official now. The Y-12 Credit Union Building is officially in the hands of its owners. In special dedication ceremonies, Sunday, November 19, members and special guests arrived to tour the sparkling new offices, and set their official seal of approval on the structure.

J. Deane Gannon, director of the Federal Credit Unions, Washington, D. C., spoke briefly, praising the Y-12 organization for attaining its long sought dream. "It is American tradition to dedicate a building. It goes back to the frontier days when roof-raising and barnwarmings were part of the American scene. That is one reason we are here today," Gannon stated.

All former presidents, except the second one, Joe Williams, were present for the dedication rites. Present president W. R. McGill, a captain in the Fire and Guard Department, emceed the proceedings, which consisted mainly of introducing distinguished guests.

Flack Represents Company

The Credit Union was organized on this "giant step forward" by George W. Flack, Industrial Relations Superintendent, who represented Union Carbide Nuclear Company at the function.

Despite the gloom of a slow, cold rain many Y-12ers came out to see their new building. Nothing but glowing praise was heard from members and guests alike as they toured the offices.

Favors Given Away

Special favors were awarded to the children, and coin purses were given all adults present.

Special guests included Lamar Eaker, director of the Tennessee Credit Union League; Gene Kimbrell, Mutual Insurance Society, Madison, Wisc.; James Coates, regional representative of the Federal Credit Unions' Southeast District; Mrs. Eloise Woods, general manager and treasurer of the Georgia Telco Credit Union, Atlanta, Ga.; and George Lehman, field representative of the Tennessee Credit Union League. Several local dignitaries from Oak Ridge were also present.

Dr. William M. Seymour, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Oak Ridge, gave the special invocation before the ceremonies began.

Carbide Parties For Children To Brighten Scene Around Holidays With Santa, Stockings And Dogs

LONA AND HER EDUCATED DOGS will be here to delight the hearts of all children at the big Carbide Christmas parties, scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, December 20 and 21, at the Oak Ridge High School. Hours are announced at 10 a.m., 1 p.m., and 3 p.m. for the celebrations. Application for tickets appears on page three.

Magic Days Announced For December 20, 21

There are many happy sounds associated with Christmas... the haunting beauty of carols, the joyful rattle of traffic as shoppers scurry about their appointed rounds, the crackle of logs on the fire. Perhaps the rarest and finest of all Christmas sounds is the laughter of little children, entranced by the joys of the season.

All Carbide children will gather for Christmas parties, Wednesday and Thursday, December 20, 21 in the auditorium of the Oak Ridge High School, for the annual fun fest, which has become another tradition in these parts.

Applications must be made prior to the events, and an application blank for parties will be found on page three of this issue of The Bulletin. A parent must accompany any party of children. Tickets will be mailed to the employee's home, so particular emphasis is put on the correct home address of each application. Applications should be mailed to the Recreation Office, Room 149, Building 9706-1A, as soon as possible. Priorities for times desired will be given on a first come-first served basis. The earlier the application is in, naturally, gives better assurance of a first choice ticket request.

Of course, Old Santa Claus himself, in person, will make his annual appearance to delight the hearts of young and old. "You look just like my D," is the classic remark made by a bright youngster last year, when she thought she recognized her grandfather underneath the beard and the red hat.

Deadline December 15

Ticket applications must be received in Recreation before December 15. No applications will be filled after that date.

To brighten up the stage at the High School this year, Lona and her trained dogs will perform. Oak Ridge Gaseous Diffusion Plant's Harry Carper will again act as master of ceremonies.

Surprise For Each Child

A surprise package will be given each child attending. The stocking is filled with bright and useful toys and novelties.

The usual fare of colored cartoons will be added to the "dog show" to gladden the little hearts. So, moms and pops are urged to get their requests for tickets in early. Adult tickets are required for parents attending with the children. As one visitor put it last year, "It's almost as much fun for us as it is the kids."

Remember December 8

Meanwhile, back at the ranch, adults are readying their holiday

ASME Holds Meeting Tomorrow In Oak Ridge

The Oak Ridge subsection of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers announces its meeting for Thursday, November 30, at the Holiday Inn, Oak Ridge. The social hour begins at 6 p.m., dinner at 6:45 p.m., and the meeting at 8.

The subject "Job Scheduling By Critical Path Method," will be discussed at the meeting, conducted by E. E. Choat, Y-12's Industrial Engineering Department; and E. M. Kidd and J. T. Huffstetler, Oak Ridge Gaseous Diffusion Plant.

Dinner reservations may be made by calling B. B. Smith, 8267; K. E. Jamison, 6861; or F. A. Ferrari, 8206.

HEFTY FACTORS

According to insurance statistics, women withstand the adverse effects of overweight better than men do. It might be pointed out that they throw their weight around better, too.

RETIRING Carpenter Claude L. Newcomb, Area Five Maintenance, wanted to be "shot" with his old buddy, Joe Rymer, of the same department. Newcomb leaves Y-12 tomorrow with more than 10 years company service.

Tomorrow Retirement For Y-12er Newcomb

Carpenter Has More Than 10 Years Time

Claude L. Newcomb, carpenter in Area Five Maintenance, retires Thursday, November 30, to become the 21st retiree of the year, and the 95th since Carbide began operations here in 1947.

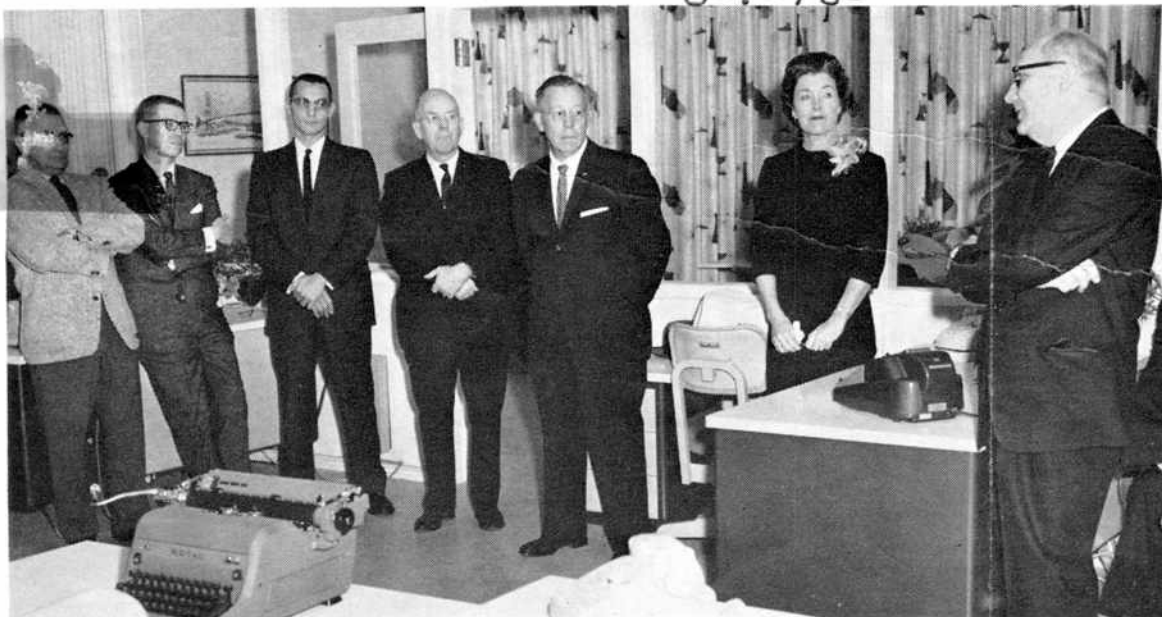

The East Coast, the West Coast and the Deep South have been the habitats of Newcomb, born in Benton, Ark. He worked on a real "Old South" plantation in the early thirties. In 1935 he was self-employed in the timber business, and in 1938 returned to the Mississippi plantation life. In 1942 he took his first carpenter's job with J. A. Jones, New Orleans, La. In 1942 he took up free lance carpentry in the San Diego, Calif. area. The years 1943-45 saw him employed as a carpenter foreman with Williford Manufacturing Company, Memphis. From 1945 until 1951 he was self-employed again as a carpenter in the Memphis area.

In 1919, November 16, to be exact, Newcomb married the former Lula Tanner. The Newcombs live at 1504 Riverside Road, Knoxville. They have two

'Post Christmas Mail Early'—Postmaster

Biggest Season Ever Expected This Year

"It's time to start planning Christmas card and gift mailings," says Van D. Hicks, Oak Ridge Postmaster, launching his 1961 "Mail Early For Christmas" Campaign.

Looking ahead to the biggest Christmas season ever, the Postmaster said further, "Here are the things to watch to help in getting every Christmas card and package delivered before December 25:

"Check your Christmas card and gift lists carefully. Be sure each address is complete with full name, street and number, city, zone and state. Avoid abbreviations of city and state names.

For gift packages, secure heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and adhesive tape. Remember, also, that a Christmas Card may be added to the package if the appropriate First Class mail stamps are added to the postage for the package itself.

Buy Stamps Early

Buy your stamps early. By doing this soon, you save a lot of time that might be spent standing in line later on. Ask for a supply of labels at the Post Office marked "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR OUT OF TOWN DELIVERY," for your Christmas cards.

First class postage is always best for mailing Christmas cards. All cards sent by four cents postage may include a personal handwritten message, and they'll be forwarded or returned, if that becomes necessary. Be sure to put a return address on Christmas card envelopes. It's socially correct to do this, and enables both the sender and receiver to keep mailing lists up-to-date.

Dates For Mailing

"We can all make the 1961 'Mail Early For Christmas' Campaign a big success," Van Hicks continued, "if we'll all take a personal responsibility in planning Christmas mailings so that cards and gift packages going to most distant points are mailed by December 10, and earlier, if possible. Packages for local distribution should be mailed by December 15, and cards to friends and relatives in this area should be mailed at least one week before Christmas."

Indiana Prof Addresses Chemical Society Meet

The East Tennessee Section of the American Chemical Society will hold its monthly meeting next Tuesday, December 5 at the University of Tennessee's Dabney Hall. The meeting is set for 8 p.m.

Dinner will precede the meeting at the Faculty Club on the UT campus, at 6:15 p.m. Reservations may be made for the dinner by calling Knoxville 524-2981, extension 308.

Dr. V. J. Shiner, chemistry professor from the University of Indiana, will speak at the ACS meeting. His subject will be "Iso-topo Effects in Heavy Water."

Untwist this problem: A newly married couple plan to start a family when they have $1,000 in savings. At present they have a nest egg of $305. They expect to save $35 a month. When will they be able to afford a baby?

Before you start with the old calculator, the answer is: About the time their second grandchild arrives!

Let's dip into the old net and see what Y-12ers are up to these days—

MAINTENANCE

Electrical comes up again with volumes about their goings on—namely J. L. Young vacationing ??? this week, trying to finish an addition to his home, but it's heard that he's playing hooky for a few days and plans to visit relatives in Georgia . . . If you see A. G. Curtis strutting around like a peacock, it's because he and his wife have an addition in the family. A daughter, Dee Ann, was born November 11, and with two boys already, they're tickled pink it was a girl . . . Congratulations! . . . Everyone has a "lazy day" now and then, but J. R. Johnston and E. W. Pipes had a week of it, just staying at home . . . S. L. Smith and B. C. Neubert left the plant singing "A-hunting we will go, A-hunting we will go," and plan to bring back some deer meat from the wilds of Virginia . . . W. S. Caruthers spent his vacation visiting his mother in West Tennessee, while K. D. Bolling headed "back to old Virginia" to see relatives . . . J. R. Bearden just pattered around the house on vacation, as B. F. Hayes is planning to do this week . . . N. L. Derryberry plans a big week of relaxation just hanging around home . . . The hunters around the department are really on the go . . . this week it's R. Y. Dittmore, for birds around Fort Campbell, Ky.; H. H. Buckner, after deer at Central Peninsula, and when he's not training his bird dogs, R. J. Spurling will also be looking for a deer.

It was hoped there was fair weather in Kentucky this past week-end, as B. S. Denton went up to visit relatives and take in the big game at Lexington . . . Sam King is expecting a visit from his son, Sammy, a U. S. Army Ranger, who is in Airborne School. The whole family is planning a hop up to Lexington to see the BIG Game . . . Virgil Lovett and family were there too, rooting for you-know-who . . .

Larry Brown

Visiting his parents is Laurence E. Brown, Jr., better known as Larry. He has just finished boot training in the United States Navy, and will return to duty Friday, December 1 aboard the USS Topeka, a guided missile ship. He plans to learn the machinist trade while in the Navy. His dad is L. E. Brown, Area Five Maintenance.

Mechanical Maintenance sends word that N. B. Keplinger is visiting his daughter in Jacksonville, Fla. . . . J. S. Dunlap is off for three glorious weeks of fishing and hunting (kinda cold for that, ain't it?) . . . W. E. Odell spent his vacation visiting in Kentucky, also planned to see the game . . . Get well wishes are speeded to A. E. Morton, A. C. Jenkins, and E. C. Barnes all in the hospital, also to E. J. Hickie and H. R. Loy ailing at home . . . The welcome mat was rolled out recently for H. A. Patrick and J. A. Townsend, also to W. E. Hall, Jr.

The hardest thing about making money last is making it first.

ENGINEERING

Project Engineering projects the news along the line that Walter Gary is welcomed back after a bout in the hospital, also H. A. Duncan is a welcome sight after his puny condition has improved. Mark Grim was seen recently carrying a bucket of red paint and a brush . . . the town, maybe? . . . Then there's the deer hunting tale from down thataway to take all tales. It seems Al Bittner got a big buck, just sitting by the fire. Hal Tunnell and George Peterson claim they drove it up to the fire where Al could get a good shot at it. All this transpired in the wilds of Marion, Va., in the snow and sleet of a winter's day. The veracity of the tale is supported by a two-to-one majority.

Two enemies are just two potential friends who don't know each other.

MECHANICAL OPERATIONS

From the divisional offices, it's learned that Emily Helton and hubby Paul spent the Thanksgiving weekend in Atlanta visiting some friends and doing some shopping.

Vacations take the spotlight in Production Control. Ernie Kennedy spent a week hunting, etc., Jim Burns . . . just around Oak Ridge . . . Marcus Stringfellow visited a big cattle ranch in Texas . . . Mike Semanski saw relatives in Bluefield, W. Va. . . . Milton Carey decided to stay home to see his daughter who is visiting . . . Lucy Parker just stayed around the Ridge . . . Tom LaRue and Avis Collins spent a few days hunting . . . Eugene Boyd took off for Ohio . . . C. V. Taylor and Jim Cole were hangers-around-home . . .

The welcome mat is out to Tom Norris and Bill Stoddart, transferring in from other Y-12 departments . . . Get well wishes to Ray Fletcher, who is recuperating at home from a recent illness . . . Likewise to Ray Curtis . . . Ed and Jeanne Cothron spent Thanksgiving with their folks in Paducah. Jeanne got lucky recently and won a silver set at the Policemen's Ball . . . Sympathy is extended to Elbert Lockhart, whose mother-in-law passed away in New Market recently. His father-in-law is seriously ill in Baptist Hospital, and best wishes to him.

Welcomed into Special Mechanical Production is Glen Adkins, over in H-2 section. R. R. Galford, D. C. Bonifacius, M. J. Gilliam, Jr. and G. E. Tidwell, all did the usual things over the Thanksgiving holiday . . . D. E. Parten is off to Illinois to see if he can kill a few ring-necked pheasants . . . Hall Trivett is back to North Carolina to bird hunt, and hopes the traditional Thanksgiving weather wasn't traditional at all.

This little bright-eyed girl is Greta Kay Stoutt, now three months old. Her photograph was made about a month ago. She is the daughter of Bobby Stoutt, Production Control. Cute, isn't she?

THIS GROUP OF 9706-1Aers, their dates or wives, or both, are seen resting between many sessions of the "twist." Their party was held Saturday, November 18, and gave them a full evening of food, dancing and general fun for all. Folks are still talking about that "sensational" red dress that appeared on the scene.

The General Machine Shop pipes along news with L. A. Shular on a hunting expedition . . . Sympathy is extended to J. A. Packard in the death of his mother in Florida, and to A. H. Johnson in his sister-in-law's death in New Jersey . . . Vacationers from the Shop include D. Branson, J. J. Brock, A. F. Herrell, E. R. Hinton, C. R. Kennedy, and C. Tharp. Nobody seemed to know where any of them went, however.

Living within your income these days is almost as difficult as trying to live within your credit.

Y-12ers Celebrating 15, 10 Year Anniversaries

Congratulations to the following Y-12ers who will observe 10-year anniversaries with Carbide within the next few days. No employees were listed in the 15-year anniversary column.

10 YEARS

Paul E. Brownfield, Area Five Maintenance, November 29.
Clarence L. Scalf, Mechanical Engineering, December 3.
Troy W. Baker, Jr., Electrical, December 3.
Junious M. Turley, Metallurgical Development, December 3.
Arvin E. Huskisson, General Machine Shop, December 3.
Rudolph Payne, Special Mechanical Production, December 4.

Accountants' Monthly Meet Set December 12

The Knoxville - Oak Ridge Chapter of Accountants will hold their monthly dinner meeting Tuesday, December 12, at the Dwarf Restaurant, on the Clinton Highway. Warren L. Slagle, Associate Professor of Accounting, University of Tennessee, will speak on "Depreciation Theory and Practice."

All members and guests are invited.

A special committee from the NAA chapter is auditing the accounts of the Anderson County Community Chest-Red Cross Fund, as a public service. Chest officials say the services of the NAA audit team are invaluable.

A PRIZE EIGHT-POINT buck was Joe Ailey's kill at the Catoosa Hunting Area recently. It was Ailey's first deer hunt, which proves there's something to the old "beginner's luck" tale. Joe is in the Uranium Recovery end of Product Processing.

Guttersnipes Are 4 Point Winners

Kingston League Is Picking Up Steam

Y-12's Guttersnipes took four full points in the Kingston Bowling League last week as they plastered the Head Pins for the full count. Thus, they gained one point on the league leading Rookies, who only captured three points in the week's play.

Red Moon, Rookies, was top man individually, as he nearly swept the board with 233, 254, and 572 scores, knocked out only by Keylon's 662 handicap series score. The Rookies had top handicap singles with 1045 and the Alley Cats took series handicap tops with 2928.

League standing follows:

Team	W	L
Rookies	35	9
Guttersnipes (Y-12)	26	18
Could Bes	22	22
Head Pins	18	26
Alley Cats	16	28

Skeet League Fires Only Make-Up Sets

Sunday, November 19's cold, dismal weather discouraged the Y-12 Skeet League from full-fledged firings. Several make-up shoots were accomplished, however, despite the dampness.

The next shoot will be held Sunday, December 3, at the Oak Ridge Sportsman's Association Field, Oak Ridge. Since many skeeters got caught up on their schedule, the full league is urged to be present for Sunday's firings. New standings in the league were not affected by the make-up shoots.

Dinner Meeting Set At Deane Hill By ISA

The Oak Ridge section of the Instrument Society of America is holding a dinner meeting Friday, December 1, at the Deane Hill Country Club, Knoxville.

There will be a fashion show for the lady guests, and door prizes will be awarded. All members and guests are urged to attend.

C SHIFT TURKEY-MEN GATHER for the popular shoot-out, held November 9. Thirty turkeys and hams were given away. Lucky drawings fell to Z. E. Kidwell, E. E. Spradlin, E. M. Miller, T. D. Ronkiewicz, and R. E. Lewis. Meanwhile, C Shifters announce their next shoot for Thursday, December 7, again at the Oliver Springs airport. All Y-12ers are invited to the affair. Free coffee and doughnuts will be available on the grounds. It's a good opportunity for some dead-eye Y-12er to make off with a Christmas turkey or ham.

Basketball Play Set This Week

Basketball got rolling this past Monday night in the Carbide Basketball League as the Jay Birds from Y-12 took on Oak Ridge Gaseous Diffusion Plant's Peons. Also scheduled were the Hoopniks against ORGDP's Lab Demons, and a Y-12 contest between the B Shift men and the American Eagles. All these games were set at the High School gym. The Kingston Five took on the Atoms, both from Y-12, at the Robertsville Junior High gym.

Tomorrow's games include the Jay Birds vs. Hoopniks, both Y-12; and the Peons from ORGDP vs. Y-12's Atoms. Scores and standings will follow in next week's Bulletin.

Pistol League Has Monday Openings

Pistoleers interested in perfecting this manly art are welcome at the All Carbide Pistol League meet Monday night at the Anderson County Gun Club, Clinton. Shootings begin at 7 p.m.

Pistol-packers have nothing to do but show at the Gun Club, and start shooting. No league standings have been established yet, and it's early enough to get in on the ground floor.

Rollmasters Keep 50-50 Standings

Y-12's Team Splits Points With Wacos

The Y-12 Rollmasters kept their 50-50 batting average in the Wednesday League for Carbide Bowlers last week by splitting two points with the Wacos, from Oak Ridge Gaseous Diffusion Plant.

Ned Johnson swept the scoreboard with scores of 226, 261, 570, and 675. The Cast Offs rolled high handicap singles with 1027, while the Lab Demons took handicap series honors with 3005.

League standing follows:

Team	W	L
Head Pins	34	14
Sand Baggers	29	19
Woodpeckers	25½	22½
Pirates	25	23
Cast Offs	25	23

Catoosa Deer Trap For Study Only

The numerous deer traps that may be found on the Catoosa Wildlife Management Area are used for deer management purposes and not for trapping deer for removal from the area, according to the State Game and Fish Commission.

Since the trapping program began earlier this year, 83 deer have been trapped, tagged, and released at Catoosa. In addition to furnishing needed information for inventory use, the trapped deer also supply the biologists with such data as the expected birth rate and general physical condition of the deer. This information will be used to help maintain the Catoosa herds at peak physical and productive capacity.

Firearm Collectors Set Show at Knox Auditorium

The Smoky Mountain Gun Collectors' Association will present a giant collection of antique fire arms in their show in the Coliseum at the James White Memorial Auditorium, Knoxville, Saturday and Sunday, December 9 and 10.

M. C. Wiest, vice president of the association, and exhibits manager of the show, said that a portion of what would be shown will be presented on the Sunday Show, Sunday, December 3, at 12 noon on Channel 6, WATE-TV.

The giant exhibit will feature buying, selling, or swapping fire arms. Hours for the show are announced as from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Saturday, December 9; and from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Sunday, December 10.

Lock your files before leaving.

Y-12 D League Dry Hides Slip Down In Lead

The D League for Carbide Bowlers saw the Dry Hides slip back in league leadership as they dropped two points to the Alley Rams, giving them only a one-point lead in the league. The Y-12 Rodders also dropped two to the Pin Heads.

The Sh-Booms led the handicap scoring with a total of 2952 series count at the end of the play.

HOW ABOUT this buck? A seven-point-er, 185-pound white-tail, it was killed the first day of the open hunt down around Erwin, October 30. It was taken by J. C. Love, Process Maintenance, who proudly displays it here.

NOT EXACTLY a man-sized fish, this bluegill is big for its species. Caught by Jim O'Kain, it is held here by his little son Joe. The fighting little fish abound in these waters. Jim, who is in Electrical Engineering, caught this one on a snapping bug.

Lab Folks Plan Big Holiday Dance

The men and women in white in the Laboratory are laying down their breakers and test tubes long enough for a big Christmas dance. They have picked Saturday night, December 9, for their annual conclave. The scene of the shindig will be the Oak Ridge Country Club, Oak Ridge.

Dancing time is announced, as per usual hours, from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Door prizes will be given away.

Y-12er Dave Blessing, and his well-known orchestra, will play for the event.

Tickets run $4.50 per couple, and may be obtained from Mattie Anderson, phone 7408; and John Williams, phone 7171; both in Building 9995; or from Charlie Catlett, phone 7689, in Building 9203.

Safety Poster Contest Closes Tomorrow

'Radiation Safety And Evacuation Procedure'

The poster contest on "Radiation Safety and Evacuation Procedure," sponsored by the Safety Department, ends tomorrow, November 30. Prizes offered in the race are a wall clock and an electric frypan, with the winner taking his choice of the two items.

Any employee in the Y-12 area, except October's winners, and members of the Safety Department, may enter the contest. The rules have been carried many times in the Bulletin, and are simple as ABC.

Many fine entries have already been received in Safety. Posters used all this year in the plant have been contributed by contestants in the poster contest. Interest in the new competition has picked up due to the attractiveness of the new prizes. This month will mark the close of the second in the 12-month series. Many valuable awards are listed in the monthly contest.

Remember if your entry isn't in, it doesn't stand much of a chance of winning!

Juilliard Quartet Coming To Ridge

The world-famed Juilliard String Quartet will be heard in concert at the Oak Ridge Playhouse, Sunday, December 3. The concert begins at 8:15 p.m. and tickets will be available at the box office.

The Quartet was founded in 1946 as a professional quartet-in-residence at the Juilliard School of Music. Since that time, it has become one of the leading chamber music ensembles in the world, known for its superlative performances and for its mastery of a large and varied repertoire.

The Juilliard String Quartet is comprised of violinists Robert Mann and Isidore Cohen, violist Raphael Hillyer, and cellist Claus Adam. All members of the quartet have distinguished backgrounds as soloists and as chamber musicians. All the musicians received their training in this country.

The program for the Ridge concert will include Haydn's "String Quartet in Bb, Op. 103," Webern's "Six Bagatelles, Op. 9," Berg's "Lyric Suite," and Schubert's "String Quartet in D Minor No. 14, Death and the Maiden."

Social Security Edges Up To 3 1/8% January 1

Y-12ers are advised that their Social Security deductions will rise slightly come January. Because of a law passed this year by Congress, employee-contribution to the Social Security act is raised from three to three and one-eighth per cent on annual earnings up to $4800. Of course, Carbide is required to match the employee's deduction, making a total of six and one-fourth per cent of gross earnings going into the fund.

finery for the big dance scheduled Friday week, December 8. The O. J. Bailey orchestra, from Chattanooga, is making its initial appearance before Y-12 dancers. These festivities get underway at 9 p.m., December 8, and continue until 1 a.m. Tickets may be purchased in advance at the Recreation Office, and at the door prior to the dance. Admission fee is $1.50 per capita, including tax. The usual array of door prizes, fruit cakes, turkeys and hams will be awarded lucky ticket-holders.

The scene of this affair is the Oak Terrace ballroom, Oak Ridge. Christmas decorations are being planned for the big hall.

Y-12 Traditions

Since holidays are mainly traditions to start with, it's comforting to have all the old traditions back . . . and the dance and children's parties are as much tradition for Y-12ers as the Christmas stocking.

We'll see all you cats at the big dance . . . then see you kids later at the parties at the High School. Mark these days on the calendar now. Friday, December 8, is the dance . . . and Wednesday and Thursday, December 20, 21 are the days of the kids' parties. Hours of the children's shows are 10 a.m., 1 p.m., and 3 p.m., Wednesday and Thursday.

Analytical Group ACS Meet At ORINS Thursday

The Analytical Group of the East Tennessee Section of the American Chemical Society will meet tomorrow, November 30, at 8 p.m. in the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies training building lecture room.

Several speakers from the Fisher Scientific Company will discuss and demonstrate a variety of recent analytical developments. Among other subjects, preparative gas chromatography daughters, Mrs. Ruby Boswell and Martha Gale Newcomb, both of Knoxville. Their only son, Raymond M. Newcomb, lives in Memphis. They also have six grandchildren.

Given 'Seeded' Wallet

In farewell ceremonies earlier this month, the Area Five Maintenance men gathered in Building 9201-1 to present greetings to their fellow worker. A "seeded" wallet was presented him, stuffed with the right kind of cabbage seed.

For retirement, the outgoing carpenter hasn't jelled any definite plans yet. He plans to get in "some gardening, fishing, carpentering work, and a lot of loafin'." The pleasant carpenter enjoyed the good will of all his co-workers, as was in evidence at the presentation festivities.

Coming to Y-12, March 20, 1951, Newcomb enjoys 10 years, and eight months continuous service with Carbide, which qualifies him under the UCC Pension Plan.

The retiring Newcomb takes with him the very best wishes of all fellow workers in Y-12 for a long and prosperous retirement.

dedication, be he member of the Credit Union or not, he will be made most welcome any time at the Credit Union offices. Lorena Causey, general manager and treasurer, issued the invitation after the open house. "We will be glad to show them the entire building. We all are so proud of it, and are quite sure Y-12ers are just as proud as we are," she said.

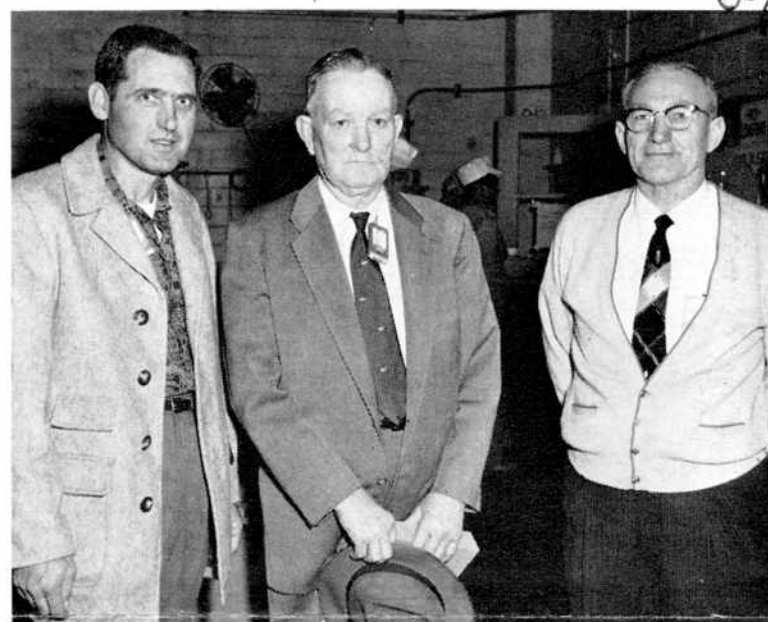

Many local business firms and sister credit union organizations sent flowers to the opening, some of which were potted plants which will fit well into the modern decor. Congratulatory letters and wires were displayed prominently on one of the desks.

One of the most striking features of the interior of the Credit Union building is its coloring. With almost daylight brilliance, the bright oranges, browns, reds in the color scheme highlight all the convenient features of the office building.

The ample basement contains the mailing, addressograph section, a conference room, and the heating and air-conditioning facilities.

So if you haven't seen your Credit Union office, you'd better get over there before the new wears off. It's really a handsome building, one that every Y-12 member may be justly proud of.

and particle size determination will be included. This meeting should present something of interest to everyone working in the analytical chemistry field and visitors are welcome.
